

THE WAR CRY.

Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—Come, Comrades, Dear,
130; Song-Book, 358.
1 O glorious hope of perfect love!
2 Lift me up to things above,
It bears on eagles' wings;
3 I gave my ravished soul a taste,
And made me for some moments feel faint.
4 With Jesus' priests and kings.

Rejoicing now in earnest hope,
I stand, and from the mountain,
See all the land below;
Rivers of milk and honey rise,
And all the fruits of paradise
In endless plenty grow.

Now, O my Jesus, bring me in!
Cast off Thy foiz, the tibus sin.
The carnal mind, remove;
The purchase of Thy death dividet.
Give me, with all the sanctified,
The heritage of love!

Tunes.—Thy Will Be Done, 18;
Song-Book, 6.

2 When I survey the wondrous Cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast:
3 Say on the death of Christ, my soul!
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to His blood.
See, from His head, His hands,
His feet;
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did ever such love and sorrow
meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

FREE AND EASY.
Tunes.—Anything for Jesus, 200;
Song-Book, 427.

3 Jesus, precious Saviour, Thou hast saved my soul;
From sin's foul corruption made me fully whole;
Every hour I'll serve Thee, whatever may befall,
Till in Heaven I crown Thee King, and Lord of all.

Chorus:
All my heart I give Thee, day by day, come what may;
All my life I give Thee, dying men to save.

In the toils and conflicts faithful
I will be,
All things I will gladly bear,
They'll be good for me;
To be a soldier of mankind,
slaves of sin to bring,
Give me holy courage, mighty mighty King.

4 Tune.—"Fighting On."
To the war! the war! loud
and long sounds the cry;
To the battle, the soldier who fears not to die;
Though the battle be fierce, and the millions who are drifting to Hell's endless woe, Oh, who in the name of Jehovah will go?

Chorus:
Fighting on, etc.
To the war! to the war! Who'll
the war-cry obey?
We the great God who calls you

BAND CHAT.

A copy of our glorified General's photo is being hung in all the Army Band-rooms throughout Australia.

Bro. Stanley Bigland, late of Vernon, BC, has been welcomed to the Emmanuel Department at D. H. Q. He has also joined the concert section of the Staff Band.

Bands Band has welcomed another Bandmaster. This week he is taking up 1st trombone. Our Band is doing well. Many favorable comments are coming from as many classes of people. A few donations have been sent in just lately, one consisting of twenty dollars, N. C.

Montreal IV. Band is increasing in numbers. We have just welcomed three Bandmen from the Old Army Bands—Casson (bass), Hill (tenor), and Dennis (drums), all of whom have come from Croydon L, Surrey, Eng.—Chas. B. Franklin.

A representative of the British Corps had an interview with the Commissioner while he was in England a few weeks ago. In taking of the progress of The Army's work in Canada the subject of Bands was mentioned, and "over this (says the British Cry) the Commissioner was decidedly sceptical and unimpressive." In his opinion the ten Army Bands in Toronto would be hard to beat—in an all round sense—by any ten Bands in Britain's capital, which, of course, is saying a great deal. The Toronto Bandmen, two up to the reputation your Leader has given you!

The Boys' Band connected with The Army's Orphanage at Lytton Springs, California, is a live, up-to-date concern which will receive a great deal of attention in our programme which we have received in any other criterion. The boys are "down" for Chalk Form, Active Service, and Temple marches, also "My Keeper," "Harvest Home," and "Invitation" etc. The last named march is a real competition. The Army's Broughton, the Bandmaster, who is well known to Toronto Bands-men. The Band has seventeen members.

The Fenlon Falls Gazette has the following to say concerning the Peterboro Band, which recently visited the town: "This Band is undoubtedly one of the best in Canada, its membership including several men of exceptional ability. One Mr. John Bon, the big drummer, is perhaps the most conspicuous, his clever manipulation of the drums sicks attracting the attention of everybody. There are several good vocalists and the cadet band among the Band members. The Band is very liberal with their time, and is sure of a hearty welcome whenever it again visits the Falls."

THREE SUMMERS. On Thursday last at Hamilton II, after enthusiastic meetings led by Lieutenant Cornell, two more souls found pardon.

"At the close of the Hulness meeting on Sunday another soul, Frank L. G. O., attended an impressive memorial service. Bro. Rees gave an interesting address on the work of our late beloved General, J. T. Wimbley, Corps Com."

Where Will-Power Fails.

THE STORY OF HOW A HOPELESS DRUNKARD FOUND THE SECRET OF OVERCOMING HIS SIN.

"Then all three prayed together."

WELL-DRESSED gentleman, of commanding appearance and with a soldierly bearing, entered the office of Ensign Mardall at T. H. O. one day, and rather surprised that he was received by an Ensign who was in such trouble. Persons who caught the momentary look of incredulity in the Ensign's eye, for he hastily added:

"Don't think I have come to ask for financial assistance or to beg food or lodgings from you. I am here to tell you that I have a good position. But I need your help in another direction. The boys are 'down' for Chalk Form, Active Service, and Temple marches, also 'My Keeper,' 'Harvest Home,' and 'Invitation' etc. The last named march is a real competition. The Army's Broughton, the Bandmaster, who is well known to Toronto Bands-men. The Band has seventeen members.

"At one time he had been a military officer."

He sat, but he needed more. So about five o'clock he got up, took his strongest drink, and knew of no sin that would avail Christ.

As a drowning man, he saw a straw the drunkard at this hope, and the Ensign on the opposite bank prayed a silent prayer over his face.

And thus thus

THE WORLD AND ITS WAYS

The New Emperor of Japan, Yoshihito.

Duke of Bedford, and the Duke of Norfolk.

That is, of course, true in a general way, but this map shows that there are no fewer than 30,000 private owners who each possess enough property to make a noticeable showing on its scale. It has been drawn on a scale of five square feet to the square mile, which, of course, will be made in sections, will measure 580 feet by 580 feet or 1/82 of a square mile.

Then they are opening the door for a whole host of evils.

And God will surely bring upon them the fruit of their own doings.

They found a woman with a little child in her arms tied to a rope. She had been singing the hymn in prayer, feeling that there was no hope of their being taken on board.

The Archdeacon made reference in this incident when speaking on the efficacy of prayer.

Despite Germany's prosperity, many city governments are worried over the outlook for the winter. Hundreds of Germanas cross the Rhine near Karlsruhe daily, and buy Argentine meat, which is sold at a higher price than in Germany.

THE NEW MAJORS.

Biographical Sketches.

Major Little Desbray.

Ever since the year 1858 the prosaic Assistant of His Social Secretary, T. H. O., became a soldier in the ranks of The Salvation Army as an Officer. It was two years previous to this that she first met with The Army in her native town of Charlottetown, and got so frightened by the strangeness of the meetings that she fled from the meeting. But she soon learned to see beneath the surface of things, and completely won over, by the Captain's godly character and influence, she knelt at the pentitent-form and gave her young heart to God. Major Desbray's difficulties continued the same country, no less of them being the determined opposition of relatives and friends. But God opened the way for her in a marvelous manner, and her highest ambition was realized when she became a Cadet in the St. John Garrison Artillery, for months during she was promoted Lieutenant and sent to assist at St. Stephen, Gaspé, and Campbellton followed, and then at the Courts at St. John she was promoted Captain and sent in charge of North Head, Dartmouth and Anticosti were her next Corps, and during four more years of service of the Salvation Army an incident that happened at the latter place stands out in her memory. The civic authorities of that day were against the Army disturbing the quiet of the lower by its noisy drum. They endeavored to regulate the noise, but in the beaten after eight o'clock on week-days and not at all on Sundays. One night the drummer forgot the time and kept on making noisy music till five minutes past eight. A police constable promptly appeared and reprimanded the drummer. Then marches on Sunday were prohibited. But the Captain thought this was going too far, and she marched out at the head of the soldiers in defiance of the authorities, determined to retain her open-air privileges at all costs. The police were very quickly decided to drop their prosecution of the Army, and so they returned the drum and declared peace.

Halifax III., Windsor, N.S., and North Sydney, C.B., were in turn commanded by Captain Desbray. This she wore a second time to Charlottetown, and four months later to St. John V.

Major Joseph Barr.

The town of Scarborough in Yorkshire, Eng., can claim the honor of having sent the present Major Barr into the Field. Though coming from a Yorkshire Corps, the Major is an ardent lover of all that is Scotch, and friend to the distressed and fallen, and her long Field experience well qualifies her for the work in which she is now engaged.

finish his address whilst standing in a hole. At Yarmouth and New Glasgow the Ensign was encouraged by splendid revivals. She then went to Hamilton, Bermuda, and did good work up there. During the next two years she was there sixteen months, she was there 400 Soldiers were enrolled. Promoted Adjutant, she was next sent to command St. John I. Corps and District. Another term at New Glasgow followed, and then she took charge of the Lippincott Corps and training Barracks at Berlin, Hamilton, Ontario, and Chatham, Ont. She commanded the Midland and Barrie Corps and was then appointed General Agent for the Central Ontario Province. The Naval Brigade was organized that year 1866, and Captain Barr was chosen as one of the members. From town to town on the shores of the Great Lakes she travelled in a sailing boat, holding results of which examinations man to her. She had a hard life to live, but she did not give up. Her book on that subject is the high point in her life. For reaching this she would need the help of God, in the keeping of his commandments. She began to pray, and was thus led on only to be a total abstainer, but to a knowledge of salvation. He joined the Army at Liverpool, England, and became an aggressive Soldier. In 1861 he was accepted as an Officer and went to Clapton for training. As a Lieutenant he was stationed at four Corps in the West of England. He was transferred to the Canadian Field in 1863, and sent to St. John. ## THE NEW MAJORS.

thither by love of adventure, hope of trade, or the search for gold. Two years was the length of their stay in the Klondyke, after which they were appointed to Hamilton I. Corps in Ontario. A year later they were given command of the Tempsa Corps in Toronto.

We next find them in Winnipeg, where the Adjutant is seen off to his or her destination. The Major's extensive knowledge of Naval Scotia and his great faith in the future of the country specially qualify him for the task of advising and receiving the members to that part of the Dominion.

A brisk and businesslike Officer is the Major, calm and methodical in his way of doing things, very optimistic and cheerful in God which inspires confidence in him who trusts him.

Major William Fraser.

Before becoming an Army Officer, William Fraser was an iron worker. He entered the International Training Home in 1882, coming out of Clapton Corps. As a Lieutenant he was stationed at seven Corps in Great Britain. He was then promoted to Captain and during the three Corps before being transferred to Canada, he was in the Fall of 1889 that he arrived in this country. His first Canadian Corps was Truro, N.S. Other Corps he commanded were St. John's, Chatham, Yarmouth, Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Fredericton, Yarmouth, and Galt. In 1899 he married Cadet Alice Johnston. Promoted Ensign in 1903, they took charge of the Bessford District. As J. O. S. they commanded Palmerston, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Peterboro, Fredericton, Cape Breton, New Glasgow, Springfield, Antigonish, and Wolfville, Nova Scotia, and St. John's.

In 1909 came promotion to Adjutant. From Newfoundland he went to Montreal, where after being in charge of the Corps' work for some time, they were appointed to the Social Work. In 1913 Major Fraser was appointed to the Prison Department of the Men's Social Department at T. H. Q. He has been there ever since, being promoted Staff-Captain in 1915 and Major just recently. His duties mainly consist of interviewing the prisoners in the Police Station and other institutions of the time of his entry or before his separation. Mr. Higgins told his brother that in all his thirty years practice he had never had one case of septic poisoning, and added, "It seems hard that the old man should die on one of the roads." General, we are very disappointed now, and I am sure I do not know which of us is the most disappointed." I heard he was also known to never have failed in his practice, his brother said that all his practice has been successful.

Six weeks after his arrival he was a Cadet, and less than six months he had charge of a Corps. He was promoted Lieutenant in May, 1905, and Captain in June of the same year. Sackville, Halifax I., Sydney, St. John I., North Sydney, Newmarket, St. George, Bridgewater, Windsor, St. John III., Newcastle, Halifax II., Amherst, Dartmouth, and Cheticamp, N.B.—these were the Corps he commanded as Captain, and at each he endeavoured to make a little advance, and generally succeeded. In 1898 he was promoted to Ensign and appointed to Moncton Corps and District. His wife, Miss Catherine Carnegie, had taken place for him previously. Springfield and Windsor, N.S. were his next Corps, and then came promotion to Adjutant in 1900. At Fredericton, Yarmouth, Halifax I., Glace Bay, and Peterboro, he and his wife settled down, working many hours and contributing to the Corps. Appointed to the Immigrant Department in 1900, he became the Army's representative for the Eastern Provinces, with headquarters at Halifax. His duties were to receive and interview all immigrants who had no passages through the Army, or in arranging for one of his assistants to do so. The immigrant then fixed up with assistance the right train, and seen off to his or her destination. The Major's extensive knowledge of Naval Scotia and his great faith in the future of the country specially qualify him for the task of advising and receiving the members to that part of the Dominion.

A brisk and businesslike Officer is the Major, calm and methodical in his way of doing things, very optimistic and cheerful in God which inspires confidence in him who trusts him.

Major Alfred Jennings.

A little mining town in England named Cinderford, was the birthplace of Major Jennings. At a very early age he commenced work in the pit, and soon became thoroughly acquainted with all the duties of a coal miner. In 1882 he struck it rich, and naturally went to a place where he could find work to which he had been accustomed. That place was Westville, N.S. Here he came in contact with The Salvation Army. For three years attended the Corps, and became a member of the corps. On one night, however, he surrendered to the strictness of the work and a great change took place within him.

From that moment his one all-consuming ambition was to work for God in the Army. Cleverly he got himself accepted to the Army, and was sent to the Royal Engineers, and then to the Royal Artillery. He was promoted to Adjutant, and was appointed to the Prison Department of the Men's Social Department at T. H. Q. He has been there ever since, being promoted Staff-Captain in 1915 and Major just recently. His duties mainly consist of interviewing the prisoners in the Police Station and other institutions of the time of his entry or before his separation. Mr. Higgins told his brother that in all his thirty years practice he had never had one case of septic poisoning, and added, "It seems hard that the old man should die on one of the roads." General, we are very disappointed now, and I am sure I do not know which of us is the most disappointed." I heard he was also known to never have failed in his practice, his brother said that all his practice has been successful.

In addition to helping the men thus the Major commands services to the prisoners and endeavours to bring the men to Christ. In this he has been ably assisted by Mrs. Fraser, who links a deep personal interest in each one of the prisoners.

That the Major is intensely interested in his work is apparent all. His concern for the moral and spiritual welfare of his soldiers is deep and real, and no former "black sheep" can boast that he ever met Major Fraser.

The Immigrant Department put them fixed up with assistance the right train, and

I have voluntarily chosen Thee as my Master, my King, my wisdom, my righteousness, my salvation, my redemption. Having yielded my powers to Thee I recognize Thee as the Sovereign Whose will in all respects is to be the guide of my life, and to solemnly set myself apart to that part of the Dominion.

SMITH'S FALLS.
A united meeting was convened on Sunday evening in the Methodist Church at Smith's Falls. About 500 people were present. The clergy of the town spoke very feelingly with reference to The General's life.

The Army's work was viewed from many sides. Rev. Mr. Burnside dealt with the social side of the work, Rev. Mr. Stolo eulogized the medical operations, and Rev. Mr. Cummings paid a tribute to our late leader while Mrs. Captain Leing spoke on the work of the General's unbound enthusiasm and unimpeachable orthodoxy in all the dealings of his Heavenly Father.

THE WAR CRY.

CALGARY.

On Wednesday evening a large crowd assembled in the auditorium to pay tribute to our beloved General. Supporting Adjutant Howell on the platform were Dr. Kirby, representing the Methodists; Rev. J. A. Clark, the Presbyterians, and the Hon. W. H. Cash, who spoke on the citizens.

Rev. J. A. Clark gave a striking and thoughtful address. He said: "We believe in God and in Christ more because William Black walked in this world while we were living."

Dr. Kirby gave us one of those little sidelights on the life of our dear General that we always like to hear. On one occasion he had undertaken to entertain The General and his wife what concerned about how she should provide for him. But they found his life in the home was simplicity itself. After a heavy meal the General came to a frugal supper and then sat and talked with his host about his work and about himself as if he had been talking to his own son. Next morning before leaving he knelt in prayer and laid his head on the hands as the children's heads, and prayed God to bless their lives and make them an honor to him.

Mr. Cash remarked: "It was my privilege to entertain The General in our home. We got to know him perhaps a little better that way. We found there were two sides to his nature, a very aggressive and dominating side, and the other side, his inner life, gentle and sympathetic. I never spoke quite so much personally to an impressed man as to General Booth."

Mrs. Major Cecilia spoke on behalf of the women Soldiers, and Ensay Greenleaf for the men. Adjutant Boison, on behalf of the General's wife, and Mr. Staff-Captain Coombs also took part. The Band rendered appropriate music, and Professor Hawley sang to us—Envoy Tues.

HESPERIA.

Cpl. Philpot is leading on at Hesperia. Our little band is doing nicely under the leadership of Mr. Legg. On Sunday afternoon we had a very impressive memorial service in the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Mr. Small, the minister of the church, and Rev. Mr. Smith, of the Methodist Church, spoke of the life of our dear General, as did our Compt. Secy. Mr. J. S. M. Ensign Jordan of Galt spoke a few words. At night we held a memorial service in our own Hall. The Band played the lead March through the Main Street, and this created a great impression in the town.

BESIDE THE GENERAL'S BODY.

Poor tired body, never was more nobly earned! What impassioned utterances have failed from those silent lips? What love for son, for dear General, as did our Compt. Secy. Mr. J. S. M. ### Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

There is a Happy Land,
Oh! Song Book, 182.
As I am; before Thy face,
Saviour, I pray,
at the merits of Thy grace Claim me to-day,
that now my poor troubled and my heart Thy temple make?
My sins, for Thy dear sake,
Be washed away?

I am so tired of strife,
I am so come
Lord, let me come Crowds of fears obstruct my way.

Past defects would bid me stay,
Yet in child-like faith I pray,
Lord, let me come!

All my past is known to Thee,
Lord, let me come!
All my future Thou canst see,
Lord, let me come!
Take me, I can't stand alone,
In Thy hands, whate'er befall,
The next tempest shall appear,
Lord, let me come!

Tunes—I Will Follow Thee, 144; Loved Once Gone Before, 140;
Song Book, No. 438.

2. Jesus, my cross have taken,
All I leave, and leave Thee.
Through I'm destined forsaken, Thou from hence my all shall be.

Perish every fond ambition,
All I've sought, or hoped, or
known;

Yet how rich is my condition!

Ced and heaven are still my own.

Let the world despise and leave
They have left my Saviour too,

Human hearts and looks deceive me.

Thou art not like them, am true.

Tunes—Jesus, I'll Follow Thee, 144;

Turn to the Lord, 160; Song
Book, 354.

3. Through your love may be scared,
They shall be as white as snow;

All I've sought, or hoped, or
known;

Though they new be red as crimson,

Full Salvation you may know.

Hallelujah! He is able...

Able now to set you free,

With His own salvation.

Then victorious you shall be.

Christ

is here to save you fully,

From all inward, hidden strife,

Jesus Blood can make you fit,

Power impart for spoiled life,

Worthy, moreover, such feeling as you never has had, the best way,

Inner calm God is revealing—

These can all be swept away.
